VARSITY DEFEATS HOBART

Umpire Gives Close Game to Rochester—Hamilton Easy for Syracuse. Pitchers Show Improvement.

An unfortunate contest with Syracuse, in which Hamilton was completely outclassed, a creditable defeat by Rochester and an easy victory over Hobart represents the sum total of the Varsity's mid-season trip. With the exception of the Syracuse game, the pitchers worked well and received excellent support. The result of the Rochester contest gives evidence of prospects for a strong game on the Campus Friday. That Hobart would furnish little difficulty was universally conceded.

The Syracuse game was much more interesting than the score indicates. Hamilton made its usual unfortunate beginning: Fourteen hits, among them two home runs and two two-baggers, a base on balls, and two errors, netted Syracuse thirteen runs in the first three innings. D. Root succeeded Royce in the fourth, and for the rest of the game held the Orange to seven hits, which were, however, bunched with errors and gave seven runs.

Severance replaced Dexter in the fourth inning, and Hamilton started right after him. Sidle was given a base on balls, and Flagg reached first on an error by Severance. Knox hit to right field, scoring Sidle, and reached second on the throw in, while Flagg went to third. Allen hit to center and scored both men. Ham ilton scored three more in the eighth. Callahan walked and Knox reached first on Carling's error. Allen was passed. With the bases full, C. Root brought Callahan and Knox in by a hit to right. Allen scored while Root was being put out at second.

The Hamilton fielders were greatly bothered by the dark background, caused by the wall of the Stadium and the Gymnasium. On this account, several balls hit to the outfield fell safe, that were under ordinary circumstances easy outs.

The score:

With an even break of luck and the reversing of what seemed an extremely questionable decision, Hamilton would have won the contest with Rochester. Altho the number of hits was evenly divided, it is to the credit of the Varsity that Hamilton's hit column contains six straight drives, including two doubles and a

1911 RECEIVES PRESENT

Carnegie's Philanthropy Outdone—Big Sensation in Chapel—"Wild" William Wins Praise.

The time, Monday morning of the past week; the place, Chapel; the occasion, a meeting of the Senior Class. Excitement had risen to fever heat, the situation was tense. The meeting came to an approximation of order, such order as only the presence of momentous issues can inspire; only once was the silence broken, then as Fawcett shifted a pedal extremity. A mighty figure rose, a veritable Webster of the Chapel. Necks were craned in agonized suspense to see who thus dared to broach a question of so delicate a nature. It was Colson, with incontestable honesty in one hand and a stamped and addressed envelope in the other. A sweeping gesture began the speech, such as we have often seen, embracing not only the four points of the compass but "the islands of the sea." "I have here," said Mr. Colson, "an important document, and, in order that members of the class may be satisfied that it has not been tampered with, I will pass it around for examination." With the air of a prestidigitator, rolling up his sleeves and asserting that he employs "neither confederates nor false bottomed boxes in the performance of this trick," Colson delivered the missive to the gaping throng.

It was a plain, unscented letter, bearing a Utica postmark of March 16th, and addressed to William C. Westcott; on the back were three wax seals stamped with what was evidently a signet ring of the initial "W"; the seals were still unbroken.

Mr. Colson was speaking again: "Saturday, at the request of Mr. Westcott, Business Manager of the Hamiltonian, I accompanied him to Utica, where, in the company of his father, we went to the Utica Trust & Deposit Co. In a compartment of the safety deposit vault was this letter and with it another envelope containing a hundred and sixty dollars. (Another gesture to the "islands of the sea.") This letter has not been out of my possession since that morning. I will open it in your presence." It was a moment such as seldom comes more than once in the life of a man. There were those whose thoughts turned toward home and mother; to others came the memories of sinful life and squandered opportunity; strong men wept. RIP went the first of the three fatal seals, and "Pete" Marhaver blinked. CRACKLE! Another waxen "W" had passed into oblivion. SNAP! "Squirt" moved his other foot. Only a piece of flimsy paper lay between 1911 and destiny!

But, back to Mr. Colson; he was reading. The letter was written on March 15, 1911, by William H. Westcott, Business Manager of the 1911 Hamiltonian, to the same William H. Westcott of Utica, and ran to the effect that, anticipating unusually heavy Commencement expenses for the Class, he had retained from the profits of the Board some one hundred and sixty dollars, which were to be turned in to the class in June for the defrayment of its graduating expenses. Satisfying the Class that the Hamiltonian had at least met all its expenses and looking forward to the coming days in June when he might stroll about the Campus with a benign smile, acknowledging thanks for his beneficent philanthropy, he had omitted mention of the surplus in his previous report and had deposited it, together with the explanatory letter, in the Utica bank. Had not well-made plans gone astray the Class of 1911 would have had a pleasant surprise party.

It had been a magnificent stroke, cleverly conceived, skillfully planned, and wonderfully well acted. Jacques Futrelle, in his story, "The High Hand," did not surpass the shrewd sagacity and remarkable foresight of the Hamiltonian's manager. There were, of course, a few of those never-satisfied mortals who objected to "Bill's" stagecraft; they said that the seals should have been of blue bordered with buff, rather than of simple maroon, that soft music offstage should have been introduced, that all the parts were not well cast. But be that as it may, the fact remains that "Bill" strove for broad dramatic effects—and he got 'em, as well as a vote of thanks for his well-meaning philanthropy.

DUAL MEET AT UNION.

The Track Team leaves tomorrow morning for the meet with Union, at Schenectady. And it's going to be a good contest, despite the fact that we are weak in the high jump and pole vault. Coach Roberts asserts that, whatever side is victorious, the margin on that side will not exceed five points.

Union is formidable in the distances. LeBarron, who recently won four firsts in the Interclass Meet and incidentally broke the college record for the mile and two mile, is to compete, as are Capt. Travis and several veterans. Hamilton, however, has a decided advantage in the sprints and is superior, or equally good, in the other events. Thirteen men will take the trip, including Manager Peck, '12, and Coach Roberts.

The N. Y. S. I. A. U. Meet at Rome on Decoration Day bids fair to become a contest between Vermont and Colgate, the former placing great reliance on the work of Gutterson, who recently captured four firsts in the Colgate-Vermont meet. Colgate, however, is extremely strong in all departments. Of the Hamilton contingent, Colson and Wenigmann should furnish strong competition in the hurdles and dashes.

NEW ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

A new Hamilton organization has been formed in New York called the Young Hamilton Alumni Association of New York City. Its membership includes all Hamilton Alumni living in or near New York who have graduated within the last five years. Each year a new class is added and the oldest one drops out. Dinners are held once or twice a month and it gives an excellent opportunity for the men to continue undergraduate friendship and to keep in closer touch with all matters pertaining to the College.

—A meeting of the Phi Beta Kappa Society was held on the evening of May 7th at the home of Prof. Shepard. Twenty-eight men were present to enjoy Prof. Shepard's able and interesting lecture on Dante and the Troubadours. One more meeting will be held this year.

—Prof. Lewis is to occupy the Kelsey home next Fall. The building is undergoing extensive repairs at present.

EDITORIAL.

After the College meeting which was held on Wednesday night, May 3rd, Drummond, '06, discussed informally before the Upperclassmen the plans for the organization of an Alumni Athletic Association. Those who were present, and who fully understood the vital importance of such a system to the activities of the College, need no further explanation, but for the benefit of others, Life will outline the plan as Mr. Drummond proposed it.

This Association is to be made up of the members of the last, say, nine graduating classes, and diminished by the class passing beyond the nine year limit, or such limit as may ultimately be imposed. Every member will be taxed a certain sum, three or five dollars, annually, and the fund thus established will be under the complete control of an Alumni Committee, preferably composed of Alumni dwelling in or near Clinton. This Committee will have full investigating powers and will apply the money where it sees fit, alike on request of the Advisory Board and on that of individual managers.

This form of graduate support is not new; it is in use in nearly every college.

The object of forming this Association is two-fold; it will create a more hearty interest among the younger Alumni in the activities of the College and it will supplement the student-tax, and thus enable managers to enter upon more pretentious arrangements.

The reason Life mentions this proposed Association is that the promoters wish an official opinion of the College on the advisability of the scheme. They believe that, if the College favors this plan, if the two upper-classes will pledge their support, this knowledge will be a powerful lever with which to persuade the Alumni to enter heartily into the scheme.

By this time, the Upperclassmen should have thought over the plan enough to be able to give an opinion as to its advisability. Therefore, Life suggests that a meeting be held soon, to put the plan to vote, so that the promoters may go ahead with their work of organization.

It is now over a month since the fountain row took place. Opinion as to the merit of the combat, compared with those of past years, still varies. The fact remains, however, that two men have not entirely recovered from the effects of the row, one having just resumed College work and the other being still confined at his home. The men who stood about the fountain with recollections of their underclassman years were undoubtedly afforded considerable amusement by the Spring row, but whether the injuries sustained by the two men in question did not constitute a rather exorbitant price is another question.

The fountain row comes at a time when there is little animosity between the under classes. The inborn rivalry and combative spirit of Fall term and "banquet season" have died out; friendships, not wholly conducive toward class rowing, have become numerous. The fountain row, at present, seems to have degenerated into an attempt to keep up appearances and maintain another of our traditions which have outlived their usefulness.

Life is far from advocating so wholesale an abolition of rowing as urged by Dr. Stryker in his remarks to the Sophomore and Freshman classes. We believe that underclass activity and rivalry are an essential part of the first two years of college life. That there is need, however, of modifying, or, perhaps, abolishing the fountain row is a fact which should appeal to the good sense of the student body.

COMMUNICATIONS.

New York, May 16, 1911.

Editor of Hamilton Life,
Clinton, N. Y.

In reply to your circular letter asking for opinions on the advisability of changing the program of Commencement Week, I should like to say that I am thoroughly in favor of the plan as you have outlined it, and for the reasons you mention. So far as I know, no other college has its Commencement so long drawn out as ours; and I think it would certainly make it easier for the general run of Alumni to get back on the Hill, at that time, if Commencement was put on Monday.

I think the plan is admirable in every respect, but the greatest benefit that I would hope from it is that it would bring more Alumni back. That is a thing which is of the utmost importance, I think, especially at such a crucial period as the College is in now. It seems to me that a few years now will make or mar the fortunes of Hamilton for a long time, and that we need the Alumni more than ever. Yours sincerely,

R. M. SCOON, '07.

Tarrytown, N. Y., May 17, 1911.

Editor, Hamilton Life,
Clinton, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

Please record me as heartily in favor of the change of Commencement Day from Thursday to Monday. I can see no reason or advantage in a change to Tuesday, as announced by the Faculty. I have missed but few Commencements for the past twenty-five years, and believe the proposed change is in the line of progress and common sense.

Yours very truly,

ROBERT A. PATTESON, '87.

triple. Snappy fielding prevailed despite a drizzling rain.

Rochester scored in the first inning as the result of two errors, a base on balls, and an infield hit. With the bases full Ogden tightened up, striking out one man and causing another to go out on a fly to Woods. Again, in the seventh, Dunn was passed and stole second, but in attempting to score on Brown's single he was thrown out at the plate by C. Root. Brown, however, reached second on the play and brought in Rochester's second run on Kaiser's hit to right.

Hamilton was practically robbed of the game in the third, when Ogden doubled to left and attempted to make third on a short passed ball. The umpire's decision in calling him out is alleged to be rather questionable. Hamilton's lone run came in the eighth on Callahan's base on balls and Allen's triple to right. In the ninth it seemed as though the Buff and Blue might yet win. Woods singled and Sidle lined out a long fly; Flagg was passed, Ogden flied out to Dunn and D. Root, batting for Hallock, was passed. Manion was sent to bat for Callahan, but his drive to second was fielded and the side retired.

In the Hobart game the Varsity struck its true pace. A total of fifteen hits was secured, but two errors were marked against Hamilton fielding, while D. Root held Hobart to four singles, allowing two bases on balls and striking out sixteen men.

Hamilton's initial run came in the first inning when Hallock reached first on an error; successive singles by Callahan, Knox, and Allen netted three runs. In the eighth Hobart went to pieces with the result that the Varsity scored three more. Again, in the ninth, two errors coupled with four hits, including a home run by Allen, sent five men across the plate.

In the first inning Ryan of Hobart hit safely, stole second and scored on Knox's error. Another run was secured in the third, when a cleverly executed "squeeze", following a base on balls, a steal, and an infield out sent Donnelly across the plate. Hobart scored again in the ninth on a base on balls, a steal, and a hit.

INTERFRATERNITY BASEBALL.

Rain broke up the Chi Psi-E. L. S. game of the Interfraternity Series, last Tuesday afternoon, at the end of the third inning, when the score stood 8 to 5 in favor of the former team. The winners played well except in the final inning, in which all the losers' runs were made. The batteries were Barnes and Taylor for E. L. S., and Donaldson and Schmidt for Chi Psi.

Perhaps the best game of the Interfraternity League series thus far was played last Wednesday afternoon, when the D. U. team defeated the Psi U's, by a score of 6 to 1. Sharp fielding was the rule, and a batting rally by the winners in the third inning was responsible for victory. Features of the game were a running catch by Burdick in left field, and two double plays by the winners. Dorrance of the winners figured with the stick, securing a single and a double in three times at bat. Thomas, the losing pitcher, made a clean three-base hit. The score by innings was as follows:

HILL NOTES.

—Prof. Shepard will lecture on "The France of To-day," next Monday evening at the Town Library. Tickets cost twenty-five cents, the proceeds of which go to the support of the Library.

—W. E. Peck, ex-'12, has been appointed City Editor of the Ashtabula Independent.

—Cole, '14, had a narrow escape from drowning in the tank last Thursday. He had gone out beyond his depth, although not being able to swim, and was in great danger when Grant, '12, jumped in and pulled him out. Cole was unconscious when rescued, but soon recovered.

—Three new nets have been ordered for the tennis courts.

—Prof. Shepard will attend the Hamilton Alumni Banquet in Chicago this week.

—Sherman, '05, was on the Hill last week.

—The seventeenth appointment to the Root Fellowship in Physical Science has been awarded to Edward Chapman Burdick, '11, of Fairmont, Minn.

—James Plant, '12, of Washington, D. C., has been elected Editor-in-Chief of the Hamilton Literary Magazine for the ensuing year. E. C. Callahan, '14, has been elected to the Board on a basis of articles submitted.

—The sttanding in the Life competition is: Callahan, McMillan, Ogden, Cole, Bristol, Gates.

—Drummond, '06, and Mattoon, ex-'14, were at the Syracuse game; Barber, '10, the Rochester game, and Roenke, '09, the Hobart game.

AID TO PRESS CLUB.

The Press Club wishes to acknowledge the receipt from the Musical Clubs, as approved by the Advisory Board, of twenty-five dollars, a share of the profits of the Utica concert.

The Press Association has been active this Spring, sending out baseball scores and other athletic news, special articles, hundreds of "personal" notices and several general bulletins, to seventy-five papers.

To aid its activity in securing desirable publicity for Hamilton, such financial support as that of the Musical Clubs is essential.

FRESHMEN, 8; ILION, 4.

The Freshman Baseball Team defeated the Ilion High School Team Saturday by a score of eight to four. The game was loosely played, errors being plentiful on both sides. Heavy hitting by both teams made the game interesting. Ogden's batting featured. "Jack" Johnson played well for the home team, making several difficult catches in cener field. The score by innings
